SOCIAL CHATTER AND HOME TALK

SOCIETY has shown no desire to relax, and this week has been no exception. The preceding ones, Gold lace and uniforms are sadly missed, but those little dinners and teas which were postponed for Fleet week, have been very popular. There are so many young people in town for school vacation that it is one continual picnic, and the younger set is certainly keeping up the record for gaiety which was set last year at such a furious pace.

Hedemans Give Dance

A very pretty dance was given at the Moana Hotel on Saturday evening last by Mr. and Mrs. C. Hedeman, in honor of their guest, Miss Carmen Clowe, whose coming departure for her home in Woodlawn, California, is so much regretted. The drawing-room proved a delightful ballroom and the huge bowls of lemonade were served through the evening in the reading-room, which was converted into a lounge for the use of the guests. Kaul's orchestra played brilliantly and two barn dances made a spirited departure. Miss Alice Hedemann, looking charming in white, helped receive the guests. Miss Carmen Clowe, a handsome girl of the Juno type was beautifully dressed in pink. Ice-cream and cakes were seasonably served in the dining room and dancing continued until twelve. There were several older ones asked to assist and among these were Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Ballentyne, Mr. and Mrs. James Kennedy, Mr. and Mrs. F. Klamp and Mr. and

Mrs. Hawes, Jr. The guests included: Misses Beatrice Castle, Alice Cooper, Powell, Bertha Kopke, Alice Roth, Cordelia Gilman, Irma Schaefer, Elsa Schaefer, Linda Schaefer, Margaret Castle, Alice Cooke, Irma Ballentyne, Marie Ballentyne, Carmen Clowe, Alice Macfarlane, May Hensner, Alma Ross, Perrin, Towle, Cathoun Smith, Nora Swanzy, Sara Lucas, Jessie Kennedy, Irene Fisher, Marsily, Helen North, Lorna Lauka, Alice Spalding, Ethel Spalding, Margaret Catton, Renny Catton, Press, Wilhelmina Tenney, Violet Damon, Vera Damon, Bernice Hartwell, Dorothy Hartwell, Juliette Hartwell, Helen Atherton, Juliette Atherton, Helen Achilles, Florence Gurrey, Walker, Wilcox, Eleanor Waterhouse, Marion Waterhouse, Margaret Waterhouse, Dorothy Wood, Alice Hedemann, Emily Rice, Ella Wight, Mrs. Richard Cooke, Miss Nora Sturgeon; Messrs. For Coast Visitors

Miss Tower, Miss Earley and Miss Bunnelle of Pasadena and Miss Clark of Berkeley, were guests at luncheon Monday of J. T. Warren and George Warren at the Country Club. Preceding the luncheon the morning was devoted to motoring to places of interest about the city.

In the evening they were guests at dinner of Mrs. Frain at Engleside, a theater party following.

The previous day Miss Bunnelle, Miss Earley and Miss Tower, were guests of J. A. McCandless on a delightful trip to Haliwa in Mr. McCandless' Winton car, luncheon being enjoyed on the lani of the attractive hotel.

Wednesday evening Mrs. William Langton gave a dinner at the Young, for the three Pasadena visitors. Pink carnations and maiden hair ferns, and candles in silver sticks with rose colored shades were used upon the daintily appointed table. An elaborate menu was faultlessly served, the less being served in the various native fruit forms.

A delightful automobile ride followed the dinner.

Afternoon tea on the Korea as the guests of Francis Edwards of San Diego, who is one of the officers of the boat, was enjoyed Wednesday.

This afternoon the party were guests of Charles Herbert for a motoring trip, and later enjoyed afternoon tea at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Herbert.

A driving trip to Tantalus and a motoring trip to the Pali, are planned for tomorrow by friends of the visitors.

Friday afternoon Miss Bunnelle, Miss Earley and Miss Tower, were guests of the Misses Ward at the "Old Plantation."

Thursday the three, with Miss Bertha Clark of Berkeley, were guests of Jack Warren on a surfing party.

Miss Bunnelle and Miss Earley will sail for home, August 5, on the Alameda. Miss Tower will probably remain till the August 26 sailing, to complete data for some special Honolulu sketches. Miss Earley will spend a week or two visiting friends in Berkeley and Oakland, before leaving for the South.

In honor of Mrs. Qualtrough and Mrs. Nicholson, Mrs. A. G. Hawes, Sr., gave a most enjoyable luncheon at Sans Souci, on Monday. Maude bougainvillea was gracefully trellised across the ceiling of the dining-room and hung in clusters over the table. A large cut-glass bowl, filled with the leaves, which were trained across the table in artistic profusion, was very pretty. Tiny souvenirs of old Japan were the place-cards. Mrs. Hawes, although unable to join her guests at table, listened to their chatter with interest, and took her lunch from the usual little table near the window. Those asked to meet the guest-of-honor were Mrs. Gerrit Wilder, Mrs. Richard Ivers, Miss Walker, and Mrs. Hawes, Jr.

Colorado Springs, Colo., July 11. Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth and party, including her husband, Congressman Longworth, and Mr. and Mrs. Medill McCormick, Norman Hapgood, and W. B. Conner, were caught in a frightful electrical storm on Pikes Peak this morning.

The storm broke as they neared timber line and raged with almost unparalleled fury as the cog train pushed on to the summit, which was basking in sunshine. The storm continued for several hours.

The trip to the peak was the first outing planned for the distinguished visitors in the Pikes Peak region. The party reached Colorado Springs last evening from Denver, where they had been attending the National Democratic Convention, and the start for the peak was made at 8:35 o'clock this morning by special train.

The storm followed an almost unprecedented drought and reached to the proportions of a cloudburst in Ute Pass, west of Manitou.

Among those who have sailed for the Volcano for a summer's outing are Governor and Mrs. Carter and family, Mrs. Achilles and family, Mrs. Galt and family, Mrs. Edward Tenney and family, Mrs. Helen Noonan, Mrs. Herbert, Miss Rose Herbert. The Tenneys took their motor-car and expect to explore the Volcano roads.

Mr. James Clarence Harvey, who was a passenger last Sunday in the Siberia, is a celebrated man of letters. His books have really brought him in a fortune, but, like all generous Bohemians, he cares very little for money and much for art. The five plays written for the Lambda Club in New York, brought him world-wide fame, and "In Bohemia," "Over the Walnuts and Wine," "Love Letters," and many others are very well known. He is a brilliant conversationalist, witty and versatile.

He was decidedly impressed by the atmosphere of romance which surrounds the islands, and expects to return some day. We shall probably read a poem or a play shortly about the islands.

Mrs. Mary Widdel, after several weeks' visit in Honolulu with Mrs. Harry Lewis and Mrs. S. M. Damon, sailed for Hawaii on Tuesday and will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Byron Baird. Mrs. Widdel was much entertained and greatly enjoyed meeting her old friends. She expects to spend the winter in Washington, D. C., with Captain and Mrs. Howell.

Mrs. Castleman, who sailed on Wednesday in the Korea for the Orient, was most extensively entertained during her short visit here; she brought letters to several families prominent socially, and her lovely face and delightful personality did the rest. Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit Wilder entertained at dinner in her honor on Tuesday, and the guests asked to meet her were Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Davies, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ivers, Mrs. Augustus Knudsen, Mr. James Wilder, Mr. Tarn McGrew, and Dr. Cofer. The table was artistically decorated in tones of yellow.

Mrs. Bickerton has decided not to sell her home at old Waikiki, but will occupy it permanently herself. She is already there with her son Spencer and quite enjoying the change from town. Mrs. Bickerton is slowly recovering from an illness which has much alarmed all her friends.

Among the delightful affairs of the week was the tea given by Major and Mrs. Dunning on Monday at Fort Shafter in honor of Mrs. Southerland and the Misses Southerland. The ladies and gentlemen of the Army post were asked to meet them, as well as

Dr. and Mrs. Humphris and Mr. and Mrs. Hawes. The tea-table was loaded with delicious sandwiches and cakes, and the tea and punch most refreshing. Mrs. Southerland and her two daughters have made many friends and charmed everybody by their agreeable ways. They will return here in the near future.

Among those who sailed on Sunday was Admiral Capps, one of the most popular men with the Fleet. Being a bachelor, he could devote himself exclusively to his fair friends. One of the prettiest dinners of a very busy week was given in his honor by Judge and Mrs. Sidney Ballou at their Judd street residence on Saturday evening last. The table looked cool and inviting in white and green. The guests included the Misses Harriet and Mary Southerland, Miss Le Breton, Captain Sinclair of the Lurline, Mr. Savage, and Mr. Walter Dillingham.

Mrs. MacKinnon, who sailed in the Alameda for San Francisco en route for England, a short time ago, has been heard from.

Beer keeps one well.

It is a noticeable fact that those who drink beer are usually healthy men.

You find no dyspeptics among them, no nervous wrecks, no wasted, fatless men.

The reason is that beer is healthful. The malt and the hops are nerve foods. The habit of drinking beer keeps the body supplied with fluid to flush out the waste.

You should drink beer—drink it regularly with your meals. If you are strong and healthy, beer will keep you so.

In Honolulu drink Primo Beer. It contains no preservatives and is brewed to suit the climate. IT'S THE BEST BEER HERE.

JONES' IXL Tasmania JAMS

Since Jones' Tasmania Jams have become world-famous, many unscrupulous manufacturers have preyed upon their popularity by offering imitations to the public.

People order "TASMANIA JAM" and then wonder why it does not seem so good as it used to.

The fact is that they have received a gross imitation of the real article.

Insist upon getting Jones' I. X. L. Brand when you order from your grocer. Guaranteed under the Pure Food Laws.
